

5TH ANNUAL CITY OF FORT LAUDERDALE TRANSPORTATION SUMMIT

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHY

David Weinberger, Director

City Partnerships

Session: How You Can Make Change

David is ioby's City Partnerships Director; he leads our strategy around deliberate, tailored partnerships with city-focused organizations and municipal governments. Prior to taking on this role, David worked as a New York City Urban Fellow and Project Planner at the New York City Department of Transportation, helping to develop and implement WalkNYC, a citywide pedestrian wayfinding program. David has worked with the Metropolitan Transportation Authority, the U.S. Department of State, the Democratic National Committee, and PBS.

David is primarily interested in exploring ways to promote meaningful community involvement in urban planning, and believes firmly in the power of ioby to create measurable, community-driven change in neighborhoods everywhere.

David studied public policy and political science at Hunter College, where he focused on sustainable urban development.

