PART IV - TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONS/SCOPE OF SERVICES

01. GENERAL INFORMATION

The City of Fort Lauderdale (hereinafter referred to as "City") is requesting sealed proposals for unleaded and diesel fuel price risk management services for advising City staff on managing the City's cost of unleaded and diesel fuel (and other energy programs as needed). The City desires to manage the risks that unprotected exposure presents to the fuel market. Therefore, the City is requesting proposals from investment banks and other financial institutions that desire to provide fuel hedging and other fuel pricing management services by submitting their qualifications, draft contract(s), product information, along with indicative pricing to hedge the fuel consumed by the City of Fort Lauderdale.

02. OVERVIEW OF CURRENT FUEL USAGE AND STORAGE CAPACITY

The City's Fleet Services Department provides functional, reliable, and economical vehicles and fleet related equipment necessary for the conduct of the City operations through its various departments. This is accomplished through complete fleet asset management and services that include, but are not limited to, vehicle and equipment acquisition and disposal, maintenance and repair, and fueling services. The City's fleet inventory is approximately 1522 units of rolling stock. This includes vehicles and all on-road and off-road equipment that consume unleaded and diesel fuel.

The City's annual unleaded fuel consumption is approximately 1,000,000 gallons and diesel fuel consumption is approximately 415,000 gallons. Total annual fuel consumption is approximately 1,415,000 gallons. Consumption is reasonably consistent but there are historical seasonal variations. Fuel usage is subject to increases or decreases due to various departmental workloads and service demands.

Fuel is purchased locally via a multi-year contract. Fuel is delivered as needed directly to the City's fuel facilities. The City's current stored fuel capacity is 108,000 gallons of unleaded and 46,800 gallons of diesel.

03. SCOPE

The City of Fort Lauderdale is requesting proposals from eligible energy price risk management consultants, hereinafter referred to as Contractor, for fuel management products. The City desires to manage its fuel costs and the risks associated with volatile diesel and unleaded fuel prices. The Contractor will assist the City by managing a program utilizing fuel hedging products that can be used to limit the City's exposure to price risk associated with the purchase of unleaded and diesel fuel (and other energy programs as may be needed).

The City proposes to hedge approximately 70-75% of its total annual fuel usage of 1,415,000 gallons. This equates to approximately 725,000 gallons of unleaded fuel and 300,000 gallons of diesel fuel. The City also desires to have the ability, at some future date, to hedge a greater or lesser percentage of its annual fuel usage as it deems necessary, expedient, and fiscally advantageous.

The Contractor requirements will include, but are not limited to:

- On an ongoing basis, provide current pricing on selected hedging instruments
- On an ongoing basis, execute selected hedging products
- On an ongoing basis, provide analysis and recommendations based on changing market conditions

- The Contractor will appoint one of their employees as the key contact for approval by the City's Project Manager

It is the City's belief that the service required is adequately described herein. Therefore, any negotiated hedge contract, which may result from the solicitation, may include the entire effort required of each Eligible Provider to provide the service or products described.

04. SUMMARY OF QUALIFICATIONS

Indicate the Proposer's background in providing hedging products to governmental entities and non-governmental entities. Provide a listing of at least three (3) comparable client references that use the Proposer's hedging products, i.e., client name, address, telephone number, contact person, and length of time service was provided. Indicate specifically the members of the firm who will have primary responsibility for providing hedging to the City and provide a resume for each. Provide your companies S&P or Moody's credit rating, and if not rated, the ratings of your parent company and confirm your company's willingness to provide credit support in the form of a parental guarantee; swap insurance; or a credit support annex.

4. Please fully discuss the potential risks to the City's financial integrity if the City engages in the use of fuel futures or commodity swaps.
5. Please fully discuss the rationale supporting your answer and provide any regulatory or accounting literature that supports your position. Is it feasible to objectively differentiate between "hedging" and "speculative" activities? If it were possible to differentiate, how or by what standards would you distinguish between the two activities?
6. Please fully explain any "hedging" activities in which your firm engages. Include in your answer the types of activities and commodities traded, exchange, etc.
7. What guidelines, policies, and limits does your firm recommend to its clients to follow regarding "hedging" for fuel related futures or commodity swaps?

11. What types of fuel price "hedging" instruments should the City utilize (e.g. should the City limit its "hedging" transactions to those that involve highly liquid investments

- traded publicly)? Please discuss fully the rationale supporting your answers and provide any regulatory or accounting literature that supports your position.

 13. Please discuss any other issues the City should consider regarding fuel related futures activities.

Attachments: Please provide documentation set (Master, Schedule, CSA and Confirm, as applicable) that the Eligible Provider typically hedges incorporating commodity swaps and futures agreements. Additional information, which the Proposer believes will assist in the evaluation, should also be included.

PART V – PROPOSAL EVALUATION CRITERIA

The award of the contract will be based on certain objective and subjective considerations listed below:

Demonstrated experience of the key individuals(s) with relevant directed energy pricing management services	15%
Demonstrated experience of the firm	15%
Evaluation of client references	15%
Technical approach to meet the City's needs	10%
Reporting capabilities	15%
Proposed fees and expenses (cost to the City)	30%
TOTAL PERCENT AVAILABLE:	100%

An evaluation committee of qualified City Staff or other persons selected by the City will conduct evaluations of proposals. It may be a two-step process. In step one; the committee will evaluate all responsive proposals based upon the information and references contained in the proposals as submitted. The committee will score and rank all responsive proposals and determine a minimum of three (3), if more than three (3) proposals are responsive, to be finalists for further consideration. In the event there are less than three (3) responsive proposals, the committee will give further consideration to all responsive proposals received. In step two, the committee may then conduct discussions (oral presentations), for clarification purposes only, with the finalists and re-score and re-rank the finalists' proposals. The evaluation committee may then make a recommendation, resulting from this process, to the City Manager for award of a contract.

The City may require visits to customer installations or demonstrations of product by Contractor's, as part of the evaluation process.

The City of Fort Lauderdale reserves the right, before awarding the contract, to require a Proposer to submit any evidence of its qualifications as the City may deem necessary, and to consider any evidence available of financial, technical and other qualifications and capabilities, including performance experience with past and present users.

The City of Fort Lauderdale reserves the right to request additional clarifying information and request an oral presentation from any and all Proposers prior to determination of award.

The City reserves the right to award the contract to that Proposer who will best serve the interest of the City. The City reserves the right based upon its deliberations and in its opinion, to accept or reject any or all proposals. The City also reserves the right to waive minor irregularities or variations to the specifications and in the bidding process.

The City uses a mathematical formula for determining allocation of cost points to each responsive, responsible proposer. The lowest, responsive, responsible proposer receives the maximum allowable points. When using this formula, a proposer that submits a cost or fee which is two times greater than the cost/fee of the lowest responsive, responsible proposer, will result in receiving zero points for cost.

2^{nd} lowest cost minus lowest cost = X

X divided by lowest cost = Y

Y times the total number of cost points = Z

Total number of cost points minus Z = points assigned to 2^{nd} lowest vendor and so on.
