

Interstate 95 Ramp Signaling System

The Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) plans to install ramp signals at selected I-95 ramps in Broward and Palm Beach Counties starting this summer. In District 1, Cypress Creek Boulevard and Andrews Avenue on-ramps will have ramp signals by the end of this summer. Traffic signals located along several entrance ramps of I-95 will make merging into the highway easier and safer for all residents. Ramp Signals are traffic control devices that alternate between red and green flashing lights. These signals are designed to control the rate at which vehicles enter the highway, helping to reduce congestion and improve the traffic flow along mainline I-95.

These signals are monitored by the Traffic management Center via closed-circuit television cameras and are operated based on real-time traffic conditions. Ramp signals will turn on during peak traffic times or other periods of heavy use, such as weekdays, rush hour windows. Advanced warning signs will flash to alert motorists when ramp signals are turned on and operational.

The Ramp Signal System is part of an overall congestion-relief plan, which along with 95 Express, is helping I-95 become a safer, more efficient road to travel in Miami-Dade, Broward and Palm Beach Counties. Below is the sequence of what ramps will get the signals.
